

So the Bubb-Street wedding is to take place a week from Tuesday, and, to the wonder of their friends here, it is to be a double one. At the same hour that Miss Helen Bubb becomes the bride of Gerald Street, Miss Ada Bubb will be wedded to a prominent young attorney of Galesburg, Ill. Mrs. Bubb is with the younger daughters in Chicago and she will be the only one of the family present at the time, as Coionel Bubb and Miss Bubb are now in the Philippines.

Local club circles will be set circling Weber.

and Dr. Alfred J. Helton. The marriage takes place some time in October.

The date set for the marriage of Miss Grace Emery and Wallace Bransford is Tuesday, Sept. 6. The wedding will be a quiet morning affair.

The Le Grand Young family, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Kerr and Mrs. William Reid, reached home yesterday after a few weeks of camp life on the Upper Weber.

Local club circles will be set circling during the coming week with the meeting next Thursday morning of the board of directors of the Ladies' Literary club. The new president has called the first meeting of the opening club year at that hour, and one can already hear premonitory sounds of the country state convention.

It's not only the plans of mice and men that are wont to go wrong. A few days ago a matron who was to leave the town carefully made out her list and addressed envelopes to a hundred and ten homes, conveying the intelligence that she wished to say good-bye. Thinking to mail them a few days later, or just on the point of leaving, she enclosed them in a special drawer of her writing desk and went out to do some shopping. A few minutes later her husband came in with a packer to begin the removal of the household lares and penates, and the first thing packed, boxed and crated was the desk. By the middle of the week her friends, to many of whom she was indebted, will wonder why she left no acknowledgments. left no acknowledgments.

Isn't it strange that the maidens at the Country club should do the work of entertaining year after year on Labor day? Last year, with unwearying effort and the aid of a few of the married men, they served tea during the laborious afternoon, and this year instead of being entertained by the men, they are to repeat the dose.

There's to be a big sale in handker-chiefs this week, presumably to shed tears at the departure a week later of one of the dreamy blondes of the sterner sex who has sojourned in our midst, as it were, for lo these many moons. What would be the consterna-tion of the maidens who are now plan-ning to mingle their, tears, if they should find that he goes not unaccom-panied?

The latest announcement from Farmington ends with these significant words, whatever they may mean—"Both the nuptials were prominent."

There are yet many fine days remaining before the cold weather comes and doubtless the many resorts will remain open until late next month. The Hernitage in Ogden canyon will not close until the latter part of September, and Brighton's will be open longer than usual, so there are to be many little outing trips during the coming month among the young people.

Another of those delightful dances at the University club is the order of the week. Well, it does seem that the University club men know just kow to endear themselves to the dancing set, and that's more than one can say set, and the clubs.

It is a matter of great regret to the townspeople as well as to those of the townspeople as well as to those of the post that Dr. and Mrs. Hepburn leave today permanently. Dr. Hepburn goes directly to the coast, where he will remain till next spring before settling to the cultivation of his orange grove. Mrs. Hepburn, accompanied by the small son, will go to the fair. and later will spend the winter in Pittsburg with her brother, Dr. Hess. They will be missed from social circles, especially by the people of the garrison. having seen two regiments come and go.

They do say that another Salt Lake girl, and one of the fairest of them, too, is to enter the army. The officer who is selected by the gossips is unknown, being at present in Japan, but it is rumored that he will be here to obtain the consent of the materfamilias in a short time.

Since the days of chivalry when the knight wore the favor of his ladye faire into the tournament has womankind looked with kindly eyes on the athletic specimens of mankind, but it remains yet for Salt Lake to announce the engagement, when it is ready for publication, of a local maiden, the daughter of a retired banker, and a baseball pitcher. The rumor has been going the rounds for some time, but the coy maiden either hasn't made upher mind as to its genuineness, or her mind as to its genuineness, or thinks to surprise a community ac-customed to vagaries by delaying the

There is said to be honor among certain classes of people, but doubtless when a society devotee does not come in that class one must make allowances. Time and again society reporters have accommodated people by holding an important piece of news for their release, only to find the day before the time it was to be published that the person had given it to a contemporary. This does not apply to one more than another, and the contemporary is frequently not to blame temporary is frequently not to blame at all.

Is there anyone looking for the job of associate chaperon? There seems to be two or three positions of that kind vacant, And goodness knows it is a thankless task to be a chaperon unless one can count on compensation.

The Agiala of Ogden has sent out the new year book, which shows a fine programme for the coming year and by its numerous committees shows as well an alertness on matters of vital interest throughout the state. DOHL BARET.

The Modern Store: Moderate Prices for Everybody

TAKE two promissory notes---one is ac-1 ceptable at par because the signature at the bottom is that of a reliable man, the other refused because the maker hasn't a reputation for fulfilling his obligation. It is the same with stores. Every one of our advertisements is a promisory note. The signature stands for reliability for the faithful fulfillment of the obligation.

We have reached that point at the end of a season's selling where the old aphorism among merchants aptly expresses the situation: "The first loss is the best loss."

In fine we must waive for a time all question of profit in certain lines, for we are nearing the arrival of fall shipments. Summer lines must quickly go. Bargains, therefore, are more numerous than at any other time. You will find them in shoes-for men, for women and school children; in suits, skirts and waists; in children's school apparel; in men's furnishings; in parasols and veilings; in ladies neckwear, in ribbons, laces and embroideries; in lisle gloves; in pillow covers and other art goods; certain articles in toilet goods; in linens, summer wash goods, domestics, millinery, while notions contribute their share of splendid inducements. It is clearly a moneysaving period. The assortments are standard; the merchandise, so long as seasonable weather lasts, desirable.

Plans are now being made for autumn trade. A heavy business is anticipated. Many of our buyers are east; some are returned; others leave immediately. Many of the first shipments are arriving. Right new while it is the final of the summer season, prospective buyers cannot afford to miss the sacrifices in prices.

An attractive reduction in insertion torchon laces is always an incentive to the ladies. A line is offered this week, 1 to 4 inches wide with insertions to match at 5 cents a vard. The prices which you usually pay run up to 20 cents. New lines of remnant embroideries are going fast, the reductions being strong ones. You will find in each of the lines perhaps, just what you want,

Our outside business is growing because we pay attention to it. Every mail order is filled with the greatest care by an experienced shopper whom we employ for that purpose. And the bargains she obtains in the store delight the recipients of them.

It is a conservative statement when we inform you that our' trade is averaging about one-third more than last summer.

It is at this season of the year that merchants begin to feel that certain merchandisc will be left over. These slow sellers are stumbling blocks. Now we have a faculty of turning stumbling blocks into bargains.

A new departure in the Basement is the framing of pictures. The work will be done right. Every necessary equipment has been made, All varieties of mouldings are carried--gilt, gold leaf, wood, antiques and composition frames. No better lines are shown. Prices will be right, too. We believe the character of work and the service will be such that the new department will be appreciated,

New lines of domestics are being shown.

We are particular about our reductions because we expect every bargain to talk for us.

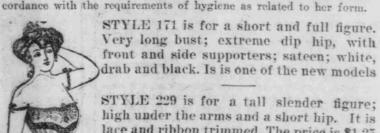

It takes lots of nerve to satisfy some customers and right every wrong, no matter what the purchase may be.

New fall suits are being shown and the lines are much admired.

A number of new lines of dress and silk goods are attracting attention.

CORSET TALK.

A graceful carriage and dignified bearing are of quite as much, if not more, importance to a woman than a pretty face. If the woman could be made to realize that the proper selection of her corset had much to do with both she would be more careful to buy only those corsets made on correct lines and in ac-lace and ribbon trimmed. The price is $1.25 STYLE 235 is a new model. It has a long hip and is laced in front. It is lace and ribbon trimmed.

The NEMO Corset is a self-reducer and is especially designed for fleshy persons. Mothers Friend and Blouse Waists

The shipment of Children's Waists, which the mothers have long been waiting for is now in. They are 25 cent waists and are in red and blue, for ages from 4 to 12 years. We spend thousands of dollars to get customers and prospective buyers into the store. We want the confidence of these people. The best way to get it is to tell them the truth about goods and pricesand treat them right.

How do you like the changes in the basement? Our little house furnishings never disappoint the purchaser. The prices are littler than such articles usually sell at.

We now frame pictures. Saturdays are growing into big days at this store.

School time is nearly here. Almost the first shipments which have come in are wearing apparel for boys and girls. These shipments include also materials for clothing. No lines are quite so comprehensive, quite so low priced.
